SURVEY OF STATE LAND

Pavilion Hotel Encroaches on State Property, Engineer Says.

Franklin H. Dewart, civil engineer, has prepared an elaborate report entitled "Search of Titles and Survey of the State House Grounds at Montpelier." It makes a substantial volume of about 150 pages.

The report contains a full abstract of all land titles relating to this property from 1781, when the town of Montpelier was chartered, up to the present day, and is illustrated by a series of plans showing beside the usual engineering details the progress of the title and that of adjacent lands.

The survey originated from the fact that T. J. Heaphy, proprietor of the Pavilion, a few years ago shut out the public from a convenient pass way, used by it, which now proves to be mostly on land owned by the state, and it also appears that nearly two and one-half feet of the west end of the hotel porch is upon state land.

The report is especially timely in view of the fact that the legislature passed an act appropriating $150,000 for the purpose of extending or enlarging the present capitol building or for erecting within the city of Montpelier, and upon lands which the state owns, a building for the use of the state library, the supreme court, the collections and library of the Vermont Historical society and such other state offices as are deemed expedient.
